- Explain how you feel about this person/ why you admire them

• Everyone admires ingenuity and creative people, and I know a lot of them. • Some can work magic with paint and brushes, while others can work magic with needles and thread.

• Here, I'd like to talk about my older cousin, Vineeta, a natural artist. • She is 25 years old and is not particularly tall, but she is attractive. • She is fair-complexioned and prefers to dress in traditional Punjabi suits. • She has a Masters's in Home Science and is skilled in a variety of artistic mediums.

• When she's in the kitchen, she can create new meals, and her presentation is flawless.

• She enjoys embroidering and has done it on several wall hangings and garments.

• She once gave me an outfit that she had stitched herself.

• I always get a lot of compliments when I wear it.

• She can also sew a variety of stylish suits on her own.

• Everyone in our family believes she possesses magical abilities.

• I look up to her and strive to learn as much as I can from her.

• We made a beautiful Rangoli decoration for Diwali last year.

• She didn't have to draw the designs at all.

• During their college years, she participated in numerous youth festivals and won numerous medals for her school.

• She has a niche in her house filled with accolades and medals she has received.

• She knits sweaters by hand, which look better than store-bought ones, and she crochets doilies to beautify the house.
