

IELTS SPEAKING PART 2 - CUE CARD

Describe a town or city where you would like to live in the future

You should say

- Where it is

- How you know about it

- What is it famous for

- And why would you like to live there

- I am currently residing in Phagwara. I prefer living in an industrial town in Punjab since it is neither too big nor too tiny. As a result, it has some of the amenities of a city while avoiding the problems of traffic congestion and pollution that plague many large towns.
- Nonetheless, if given a chance, I would prefer to relocate to Chandigarh.
- Chandigarh is Punjab's capital, and if I had to categorize it, I'd say it's an administrative city.
- Unlike other Indian cities, Chandigarh was established after independence.
- Because a French architect constructed it, it is not as chaotic as most Indian cities.
- The first thing I like about it is the planning aspect.
- There are sectors in the city.
- There are different sections for residential, business, and industrial use.
- Because the commercial and residential districts of Phagwara are so close together, it isn't quiet even at night.
- Chandigarh also has a lot of vegetation, which I adore.
- There are numerous parks, and the city has planted trees on both sides of the road.
- It has some of the country's best malls and retail centers.
- Elante, one of Asia's largest malls, is located in Chandigarh, offering a vibrant nightlife.
- Finally, Chandigarh is one of Punjab's most well-connected cities.
- You may go on vacation for the weekend and return to work on Monday because it has a railway station, a bus station, and an airport.
- Shimla, a prominent hill station in India, is only a three-hour drive away.
- As a result, one can spend the weekend in the hills throughout the summer.
